

Modern Slavery Statement

This statement is made pursuant to section 54(1) of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and constitutes the Company modern slavery and human trafficking statement.

Historic Property Restoration is a private limited company engaged in the construction sector and provides contracting excellence in the restoration and conservation of historic buildings and structures. We have circa 65 employees and operate throughout the United Kingdom.

We have long-standing relationships with our supply chains who are annually reviewed to ensure their policies and procedures are current and comply with legislation. Our objective of them is to attain high standards of performance within the given framework.

We are committed to ensuring that there is no modern slavery or human trafficking present in our supply chains or in any part of our business. We ensure our policies and procedures manage the way we obtain goods and services through our robust supply chains.

We have a clear framework of rules and behaviors for employees and encourage the reporting of concerns so that they can be dealt with appropriately in accordance with our policies and procedures. Employees can raise concerns confidentially and anonymously if they wish and seek advice about modern slavery issues.

All our employees demonstrate their eligibility to work in the UK by providing a copy of their passport and National Insurance number at the start of their employment. We also have a preferred supplier to source temporary workers and require all contractors to undergo an eligibility check before commencing work.

This Modern Slavery statement reflects our commitment to acting ethically and with integrity in all our business relationships and to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure slavery and human trafficking is not taking place anywhere in our supply chains.

We will continue to assess potential risk areas in our supply chains and actively encourage and protect whistle blowers through confidentiality.

The statement has been approved by the Managing Director who will review and update it as necessary as part of the Management Review.
